Complete Solution for HARD WATER Problems

- ◆ Due to rapid urbanisation natural water sources are in great decline and dependence on underground water is increasing day by day.
- ◆ As dependence on deep bore well water in raise we are left with no option than using this hard water for our daily routine.
- ◆ For better living quality of water matters a lot.
- ◆ It's a common observation in every household scaling of pipes and tapes, shower blockages, no shine of washed cloths or utensils, soaps and shampoos not giving proper foam, hair loss dull skin what not this list goes on and on...
- ◆ Real culprit for all these problems is the water you are using it may be hard water or to make things till worse may be hard water with chlorine.

What is Hardness in Water?

In simple terms hard water is kind of water having huge amounts of dissolved calcium and magnesium. Due to this high calcium and magnesium content water becomes more turbid and water molecule size increases there by water quality drops a lot. To understand water performance downs as water hardness increases.

As per the available information water from 90% bore wells is hard water.

What is the solution for this hard water problem?
